

INVITATION
Inspireurope Regional Outreach Workshop, SE Europe
Greece Thessaloniki 31.3.2022

Hybrid format (KEDEA AUTH and ONLINE)

On behalf of the Inspireurope project, we invite you to join a Regional Outreach Workshop to expand opportunities in South East Europe for researchers at risk. The workshop will be held in a hybrid format - on-site as well as online - in Thessaloniki (venue: Aristotle University Research Dissemination Center-KEDEA), Greece on March 31, 2022.

Organized by Aristotle University of Thessaloniki in cooperation with the InSPIREurope consortium, the workshop will raise awareness and promote collaboration in South East Europe for supporting researchers at risk to continue their careers in a safe work environment in Europe, whether in academia, business, NGOs, think tanks or other sectors. It, also, aims to discuss challenges and good practices and provide useful guidelines for national-level actions in Europe in support of researchers at risk.

The workshop will include sessions on:

- Academic Freedom: Core Academic Value and Pillar of Democracy
- Building a culture of welcome at South East European institutions
- Preparing the work environment in the academic and non-academic sectors
- Career development & cross-national circulation of researchers in Europe
- Researchers at Risk: Contributions to European academy

For the detailed programme of the event, please visit <https://inspireurope.auth.gr/en/workshop2022>

The official language of the workshop is English.

Participation in the event is free of charge, but registration is required.

For on-site participation to the event, please register here

For online participation to the event, please register here

Information about the workshop can also be found in the following links:

- <https://inspireurope.auth.gr/en/workshop2022#>
- <https://www.maynoothuniversity.ie/sar-europe/events/inspireurope-regional-outreach-workshop-southern-europe>

Alexandros Triantafyllidis

Professor, School of Biology
AUTH's Scientific Responsible of
InSPIREurope: Supporting R@R
Chair of SAR Greece Section